...(in other words) WARRIORS

Every student at Warren is more than just a face in the halls. Students value the reputation that they have made for themselves, whether that is as a star athlete, an actor on stage or a member of Student Council. It is important to glorify the fact that students at Warren take the initiative to get involved and incorporate themselves into the school and make a difference in the community.

Warren athletes not only win state championships but also attend universities such as Notre Dame. Music students not only perform for their peers but also at competitions. Warren students not only take dual credit courses for college but also get internships through the Walker Career Center. Members of the Gold Brigade not only perform at halftime home games but also perform at Lucas Oil Stadium for world championships.

Athlete, actor, musician, scholar, scientist, medical student, marine biologist, journalist, writer, mathematician, beautician, Marine...In other words a Warren Central Warrior.

We will always be Warren Central Warriors.

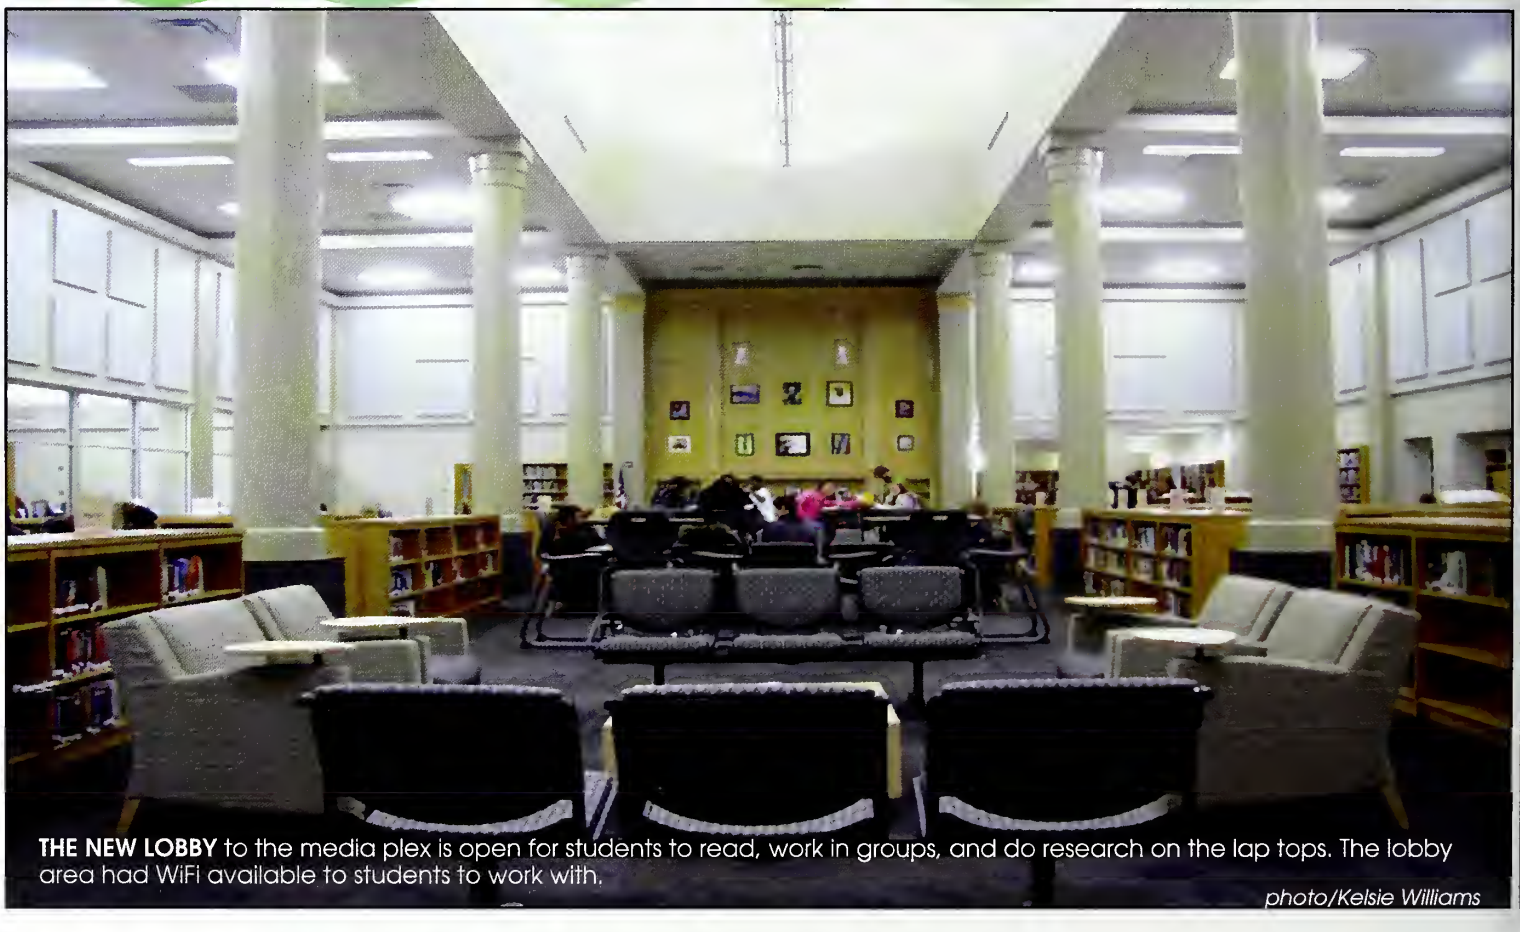
THE MILLION DOLLAR mediaplex



THE NEW LOBBY to the media plex is open for students to read, work in groups, and do research on the lap tops. The lobby area had WiFi available to students to work with.

Imagine: Walking into a large lounge, with flat screen TV's, wireless laptops and walls legible to write on. There are large projector screens, hundreds of Mac computers, and technology available at the palm of your hands. It will no longer be part of a dream, because finally arrived.

After almost three years of planning, designing and putting the Mediaplex together, its creation finally came to life. The creator himself, Mr. James Aldridge, Chief Technology Officer, wanted the new library to be more intriguing for the students in the future.

"I wanted the Mediaplex to be more inviting for students of the 21st Century," Aldridge said. "I wanted to introduce the students to all the collaborative things we do in the real world."

Making a 21st Century change expanded the use of technology accessible for students. When students first walked in, six flat screen TV's were available for students to watch, showing local and national news including BBC and Al Jazerra. The goal was to expand students' knowledge in different topics going on in the community, but also around the world.

Another change was the computers. The Mediaplex provided over 150 new Apple Macintosh computers available for student use.

The Mac's had new software available to students making it more beneficial for students involved with certain programs through Warren. Many of these computers were dual monitor and there were many laptops available for students to use, especially for group projects, with better quality in sound and service.

The Mediaplex had new rooms built to enhance the learning opportunity for students. These rooms include the Collaborative Learning Studio, Creative thought Gallery, Digital Newsroom, SI-COM Lab and the Digital Viewing room. The variety of rooms had 3-D projector screens and dry erase walls and tables, making planning for projects and designs easier and more creative.

"If you gut the existing space, and limit construction, you can put more toward the instruction," Aldridge said.

Many teachers made much use out of the new Mediaplex and were excited to introduce their students to the new technology offered.

"The technology facilitates our needs in speech nicely," Mr. Scott Black said. "We now have the ability to simultaneously work on outlining, organizing speeches, and research with the dual monitors."

NOT JUST HOMECOMING KING & QUEEN....

(in other words)

domonique shropshire & cayla wood phommarath

Since Cayla Wood Pommarath did not grow up in Indianapolis, she had to completely start her high school life over when she came to Warren Central her sophomore year because she knew absolutely no one. Cayla never imagined being able to become Warren Central's 2012 Homecoming queen.

"My positive attitude and lots of prayer is what I attribute to where I am today," Cayla said.

Cayla has participated in a wide variety of events such as Student Council and One Heart One mind in becoming a true Warren Central Warrior. Cayla is very active in her church where she helps teach the Bible school.

Cayla also had the opportunity to be an assistant to a fashion designer for Midwest Fashion Week. With lots of busy days and absolutely no social life during fall break, Cayla was the best assistant she could be and benefited from the experience.

Senior Domonique Shropshire, running back for the varsity football team, never imagined he would win Warren Central's Homecoming king either.

"I was shocked that I was even nominated because I never did any kind of campaigning," Domonique said.

What did he do that earned him the votes? Domonique heard that he was nominated and joked that it was because of his handsome looks. But there was more.

Domonique volunteers with his church. He loves working with the children, including teaching vacation Bible school. When he works with the kids, Domonique always tries to lead by example by not getting into trouble and always staying positive.

"Knowing that I am teaching kids the right thing and being a positive influence in their lives is the best feeling in the world," Domonique said.

WARREN'S GOT TALENT

Warren not only has talent, but behind the talent these performers have passion

Carl Harris Jr., sophomore, is an example of a student that has true passion. Carl is known around WC for his slick dance moves, his beautiful voice, his determination in the classroom, but most of all his passion for Connection Show Choir.

"I plan on going into the music industry," Carl said. "I'm already in a gospel group called Power & Purpose Chorale. We already signed to a label called CMG Entertainment. After we are done with that, I will be working on my debut CD called 'A New Beginning."

Harris wasn't the only one putting on a show. Harris and his partner in crime, Jacob Hildebrant, showcased their Blues Brothers duo, singing and dancing to "Soul Man" by the Blues Brothers.

"I felt very nervous and good at the same time," Carl said. "But the audience gave my brother Jacob and I really good feedback, so overall it was good!"

Harris and Hildebrandt weren't the only shining stars at WCHS. Warren's Got Talent showcased many other talents and performances as well as a color guard feature performance, two other dance performances, a piano performance, and a Christmas bell showcase. This year was most certainly one of WGT's most unique years.

THE (4) KEYS TO BEING A LEADER

R- Respect

The first step in being a leader is to give out the same amount of respect you expect to receive.

I- Integrity

Being a leader means always having integrity, in other words, always taking the initiative to be honest and do the right thing.

O- Opportunity

Leaders always take the opportunities handed to them not only to stand up and be a leader, but to guide others in the right path.

T- Teamwork

Leaders are the most efficient by using teamwork to pull everyone's skills together and get their best work done.

YOU CAN'T QUIET THE WC LEADERSHIP R.I.O.T.

WARREN STUDENT LEADERS

On a chilly morning in early September, three busses filled with anxious students making their way to Camp Belzer in Lawrence Township. But these students weren't just any students; they were hand-picked student leaders.

Student Council and other group or team sponsors chose students who possessed leadership qualities and potential to attend the Junior/ Senior leadership retreat. This year, the theme was R.I.O.T- Respect, Integrity, Opportunity, and Teamwork.

Speaker Mr. Adam Gaff encouraged these four qualities throughout the day by telling funny stories and doing activities with students. The activities included lessons about each quality of RIOT, and showed students winning isn't always everything.

"The Leadership RIOT was a BLAST!" Gaff said. "It always amazes me at how much fun learning about leadership can be. One may think that random measuring, playing silly games, and sharing with our neighbors can bring so much growth. I am so excited to see how WCHS students take it and make a positive change in their schools."

Other than Student Council advisors Ms. Beth Wolff and Ms. Courtney Burchett, junior and senior teachers went along to the retreat to advise and encourage students about leadership.

"It's always a great day, it's fun, but there are also valuable skills taught," Ms. Susan Kalberer said. "I love seeing the interactions of students, and seeing them just get out and have fun."

Throughout the day, leadership and the four qualities of R.I.O.T were encouraged to students to bring back to the Warrior Nation. After the retreat, students and teachers were motivated to stand up and be leaders, and the Take a Stand group was created. Take a Stand had meetings throughout the year to discuss and take action to stand up and be leaders against bullying.

"Being able to see the leadership retreat from both sides, it was evident what kind of effect the workshops had on everyone in attendance," Student Council officer Robert Coram said. "I'm sure the principles preached will return to make a positive impact on WC."

WARREN PERFORMING ARTS PRESENTS the Wiz

Think you knew the Wiz?

After 1,627 performances on Broadway, seven Tony awards and different shows at theaters across the nation, the musical "The Wiz" was performed on the PAC's stage in November. This show gave an R & B twist to the classic musical, following Dorothy (Destiny Yarbrough) Tinman (Ivana Nickic) Scarecrow (Tony Weatherington) and the Lion (Maamun Abdelhak) in their quest to meet the Wiz. After a wicked tornado scoops up Dorothy's house and lands it in Oz, she has to follow the yellow brick road to meet the Wiz, who will take her back to New Jersey.

"A girl goes to Oz and a whole bunch of hijinx and tom-foolery ensue, so that she can figure out a way to get home," vocal director Mr. Dustin Podgorski said. "There was more music to this show than any other musical we've ever done."

This year, professional designer Stephen Hollenback chose to design the cast's costumes. Hollenback is a prestigious artist who chooses the shows he designs for, and Warren Central was lucky enough to be chosen.

"I was thrilled," director Ms. Carrie Reiburg said. "We looked as amazing as we sounded."

Weatherington said the Scarecrow is different from his past roles.

"For me, it was fun not being a human for once," Weatherington said.

The Scarecrow was one of many characters that Dorothy met on her journey through Oz. As she eased on down the road, she met the heartless Tinman; cowardly Lion; the Good Witch of the North, Addaperle (Austin Russell); the Wicked Witch of the West, Evilene (Megan Barras) and more."We had a large group of talented people," Abdelhak said.

Besides the three friends Dorothy took on her journey to find the Wiz, she met many other characters along the way. Coming into Oz she met munchkins, played by many Warren Central students and younger students from other schools in the township.

The friends Dorothy finds in Munchkinland were found in other places throughout the play, such as Evilene's castle and the Poppy field. These characters were part of the chorus, and each member had different costumes to go with each scene.

"I played a Munchkin, a Poppy, a Khalida and a Winky," junior Maya Washington said. "The Wiz was the first musical I've ever done. The cast and directors were amazing and being in the chorus was exciting. I was always busy and there was never a dull moment."

After the first performance, Students were so thrilled about The Wiz that the second night of the show sold out, and all three nights sold a total of 1,500 tickets. The Wiz was an opportunity you shouldn't have missed.

A "I was the Little Ugly One in the Kalidah Scene, Evilene, Queen Poppie, and a chorus member."

Q What was being in this play like?

A "So much fun. There were stressful times, but we all pulled through. It was an amazing experience."

Q What did you do to prepare for your roles?

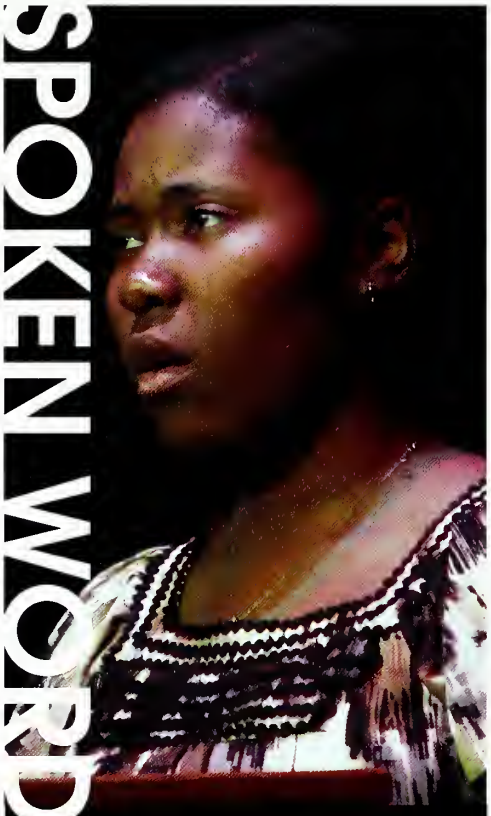
A " I read through the whole play and tried different personalities to see which fit best. And I convinced myself I was really the witch."

WARREN CLUBS

SPOKEN WORD



Quay'onntra Walker

Q: Why did you join Spoken Word?

A: I wanted to be a part of a place where I could express myself in different styles and forms.

Q: What are some of your responsibilities in the club?

A: I oversee the memorization of literature for all the members. I also have to memorize my own pieces I choose to perform.

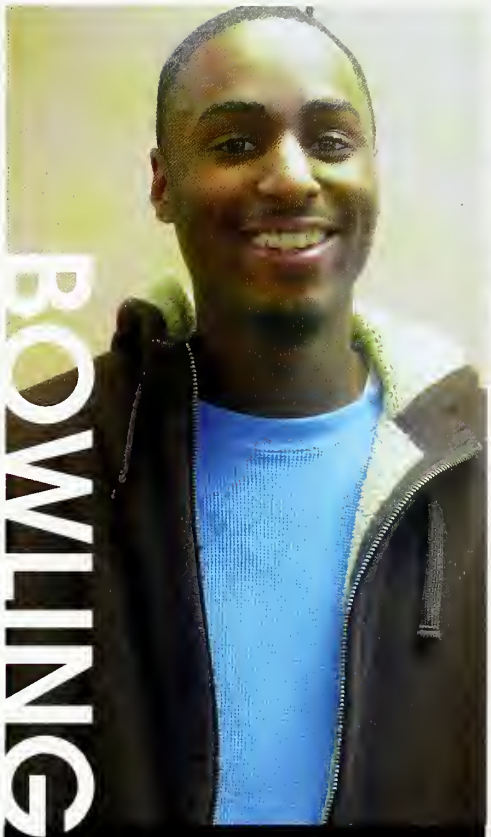
Q: How did you become co-president?

A: I was always the person that took charge in our meetings and it led to my position.

Q: What is your favorite part of the club?

A: I love all the people in the club and their different personalities.

BOWLING



Sadel Watson

Q: Why did you join the bowling team?

A: My uncle gave me two of his bowling balls because he was ill, so I decided not to let them sit in my basement and tried out for the team. After trying out, I found out I was a natural.

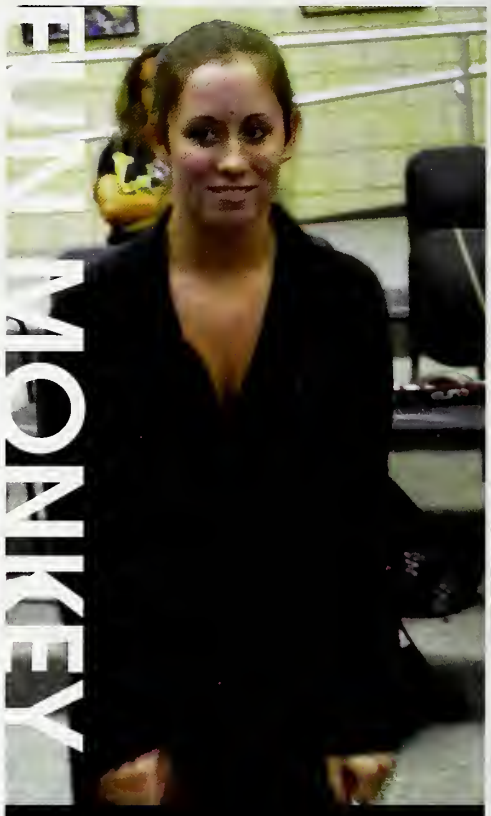
Q: How were you named captain?

A: One night on our way home, my teammate's father suggested that if there were to be a captain, it should be me.

Q: What are some improvements for next year?

A: I want to instill my leadership qualities in the team so they can do as well or better.

FUN MONKEY



Meghan Barras

Q: Why did you join Fun Monkey?

A: I joined because humor is one of my strong points and I wanted to get better at it and entertain.

Q: What does it mean to be a captain?

A: It means a lot of leadership and responsibility. It's something I have earned and worked for, so it's a big deal for me.

Q: What are the responsibilities you have?

A: I make the team understand how improv works. There's a lot of hard work put into every practice. We have a lot of fun, but it's important that we are actually working too.

Deasia Robinson

Q: Why did you join One Heart One Mind?

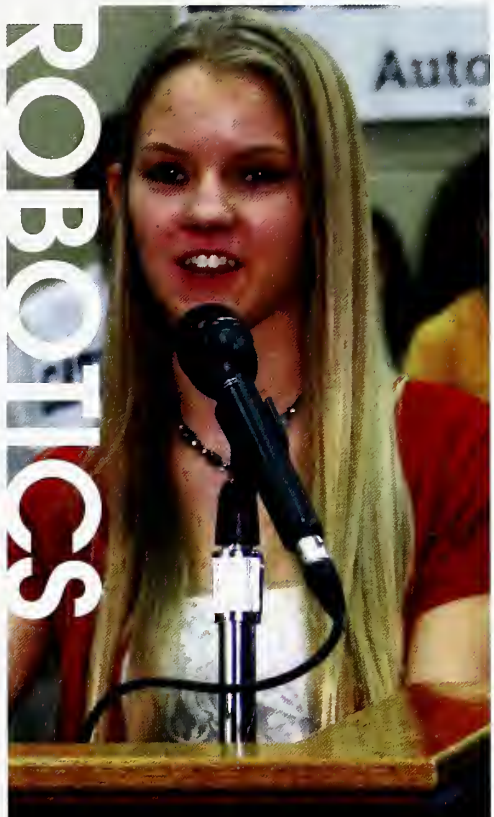
A: I heard they were having interviews and I was interested in joining something new and different.

Q: What are your responsibilities in the club?

A: I go over the meetings and make sure everyone knows what they're doing.

Q: What is your favorite part of the club?

A: I like our meetings, and getting involved around the community and school.



Mariah Keane

Q: Why did you join Robotics?

A: I joined because I love to build, think and compete.

Q: What are some of your responsibilities?

A: The first year I joined I was responsible for measuring and cutting wood and aluminum, meanwhile I was learning to program. This year I help program the robot.

Q: What is something most people don't know about Robotics?

A: There are many aspects of robotics, for example: website design, building, designing, mechanics, wood work, spirit ideas, and programmng. Also, there are many events outside of school.

Oliver Jimenez

Q: Why did you join Just Say No?

A: I joined to send a positive message to the youth, especially being in a generation that is plagues with the pressure to fit in.

Q: How did you become co-president?

A: Simply because I express characteristics and traits of leadership, hard work, and responsibility.

Q: What are your responsibilities?

A: I make an effort to be involved in every thing we do, even if it means sacrificing my own time.

Q: What is your favorite part of JSN?

A: The large student body of almost 300 members and the enthusiastic atmosphere they create.

CELEBRATING differences

With a 51 percent minority rate, Warren Central is one of the most diverse high schools in the state. Many have found Warren Central as a place where they can attend school knowing that their culture will blend in and they will feel as if they were at home.

This year, Warren Central received an exchange student from Denmark, who gave people an opportunity to learn about a different culture that was new to the Warrior nation.

Jeppe Albertson, senior, noticed major differences between Denmark and the United States. In Denmark, he would get up early to walk to school and then get off around 2 p.m. to go home or hang out with his friends.

"School is definitely different here. Education is free in Denmark, so anyone who wants it can get it," Jeppe said. "Besides education being free, it is also more casual. Students call their teachers by their first name and not by their last name, we could also use electronics in school, and we would stay with the same class instead of changing every period."

As well as free education, people in Denmark get free health care and no guns are allowed there.

Throughout Warren everyone sees many different skin colors, cultures, and religions. Warren Central has managed to accept everyone and bring them together, making our school a good role model for others.

"Diversity in school has been of great impact in my life because it has shown me how to understand others and it has helped me learn many new things about people from other ethnicities," sophomore Eric Catalan said.

"I grew up in Texas and lived around the Mexican culture. Due to that, Mexican food became my favorite. Living among that culture taught me the values of other people and gave me the opportunity to experience a whole new world," Ms. Brittney DeBesse said.

DeBesse also had great moments at quinceaneras. Quinceaneras are latin parties for girls who turn 15 years old. It represents that they turn from a little girl to a woman. She also has tried many different cultural foods from other places, and different styles of music and dance.

"Diversity is an essential dynamic that makes up the world as we know it. Warren Central's population provides students and staff a chance to better understand other cultures, ethnicities, and religions, outside of their own," Ms. Elliott said.

> "Diversity is needed in the school. Technology is making our world smaller exposing us to all races, beliefs, and opinions. Without diversity this wouldn't be possible."
> Ms. Toni Duerson

where are you from?

Students throughout Warren Central gave different opinions about their culture. Everyone comes in to the school with different culture, beliefs, and ways of thinking.

"Being American involves a lot of cool things. Our culture is looked up to by many other cultures around the world and in Warren Central we have many diverse backgrounds that I like learning from."

William Welch, 11

"I was born in California and my family is from Mexico. Understanding my culture has made me see that not many people value their culture. I'm proud from where I'm from and wouldn't change it for anything."

Eric Catalan, 10

"As a Salvadorian I feel my culture is really important because it represents me. I enjoy being from El Salvador because it gives me a feeling of being part of the diverse cultures that fit in Warren as one. I think diversity in Warren is different because of the many cultures and traditions it has."

Jonathan Marin,10

"My culture defines me for who I am and not for what people think of me. Being Chinese brings many expectations such as getting good grades and not letting our parents down."

Kayla Zheng, 11

"My culture, Palestinian, has very strict rules, ways of being, and different views. All of that has helped me respect myself and I've combined it with my own opinions which has developed the person I am today."

"I think diversity is understanding cultures and beliefs from other people. I feel that Warren Central is very diverse and has become a great place for many people to come together."

Favorite Cultural Food? "Pozole is my favorite because it's something really good with lemon and other spices."

How has your family impacted the way you think about diverse cultures?

"My family has taught me important things about life. They have changed the way I think about others. They have taught me how to value others for who they are and not for looks or culture."

(in other words) MONEY

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

#1

Every other day gas prices rise and fall. The average price of gas is $3.37. Teens usually tend to spend about $25 a week on gas.

Teenagers seem to pay the highest premiums when it comes to auto insurance. The average annual cost of auto insurance for teens is $2,228.

#3

3.)Trends come and go so fast, everyone wants to keep up with the new style. When teens go in to a store they tend to spend around $30.

#4

Even though fast food does not cost a ton of money, it will put a hole in your pocket fast. The average cost of a meal is $5.

A cell phone is a must have to teenagers. The average cost of a monthly phone bill is about $50.

Hot Spots For Highschoolers To Work At

1. TEXAS ROADHOUSE

"Working at Texas Road is like going to school all over again. Many people from Warren work there. It makes work goes by fast with all my friends there. The environment at Texas Roadhouse fits me."

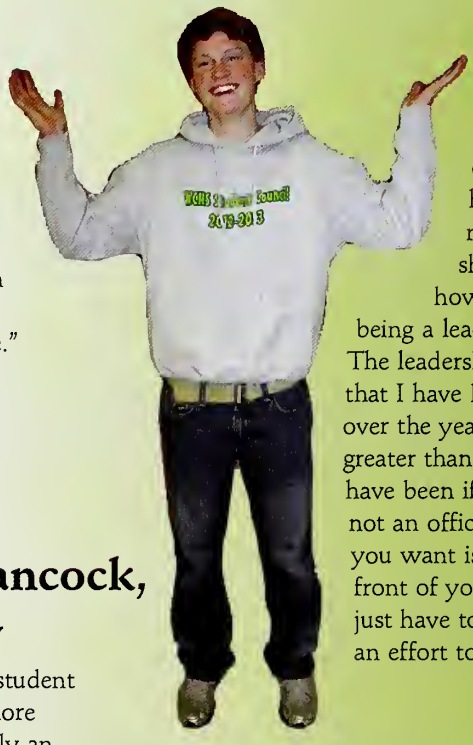
Ricky Johnson, Treasurer

"Student council has helped me be a more organized person. Being an officer can be very demanding at times, so organization is the key. The community service events have made me a more selfless person. Being an officer has truly changed my life."



Elliott Dant, President

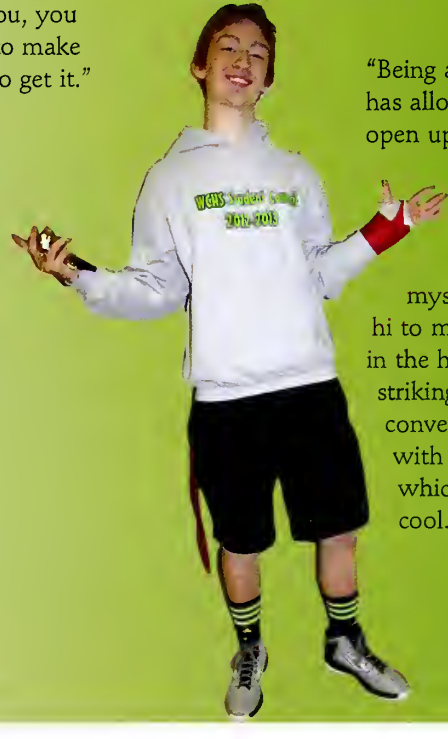
"Being an officer has really shown me how hard being a leader is. The leadership skills that I have learned over the year are far greater than it would have been if I was not an officer. What you want is right in front of you, you just have to make an effort to get it."

Allyson Edmonds, 1st Vice President

"Student leaders are key people inside the school. My experience as a student council officer has taught me many values that I will use for the rest of my life. I'm so thankful to have the opportunity to lead my peers and be a voice here in Warren Central High School."

Diana Hancock, Secretary

"Being in student council, more specifically an officer, has given me a broader, more in-depth perception of the school and how it functions. Its helped me to appreciate school more."



Robert Coram, 2nd Vice President

"Being an officer has allowed me to open up to people even more than I did. I find myself saying hi to more people in the hallway, and striking up more conversations with people, which is pretty cool.

Winterfest is the half way mark for the school year. For some, they have completed their very first semester of high school where they have already learned lifetime skills and are getting more involved with activities throughout the school. For others they only have one more semester to go to complete their high school career and start a new chapter in their life.

Students celebrated the week by creating the spirit boards, going to events such as Lip Sync, dressing up for spirit days, and going to the Winterfest basketball game.

The spirit boards kicked off the week. This years theme for the boards was "Bury the Bears" in honor of the Lawrence Central Bears. Spirit boards got students excited and hyped about beating the school rivals.

In Lip Sync, students got to show off their hidden talents. This was another way students were able to always gather and create memories. Ginger Council and Tautiana Brown-Robinson were the group and solo winners this year.

The dress-up week is always considered the most fun. Dress-up days, planned and voted on by student council, were a way students could physically show that they support their school. They dressed backwards, dressed as if they were in the 80's, and even had a twin for a day.

All events led up to the Winterfest basketball game. Students gathered to support their fellow Warriors and used all the hype and energy created throughout the week to cheer the team on. This year, there was a competition for whom showed the most spirit at the game. Haley Neligh, junior, was the winner and won a prom ticket.

Even though Winterfest was a very fun and busy week, it was a time when students made many memories. Students highlight Winterfest week as a week to remember forever.

Q: How long have you been on the Lake City Skiers?
A: "For about 4 years."

Q: Do you have a coach
A: "Yes,but I mainly coach myself."

Q: How much do you travel?
A: "We travel all over the city, depending on where the tournament is located."

Q: What is your favorite part of skiing?
A: "My favorite part of skiing is the pyramid, I just love the thrill from being the one so high in the air."

Q: How close are you and your team?
A: "We are like a family, we love each other."

OUT OF THE ORDINARY & UNIQUE (in other words) outside sports

While many athletes compete in traditional sports such as basketball and football, some of the students and faculty at this school participated in other non-traditional sports.

Japanese teacher Mr. Tyson Fritt's favorite activity after school and during the weekend involved taking a trip down to Velodrom Skate Park in downtown Indianapolis. Fritts has traveled to many places such as Japan and China just to go to their skate parks.

Skating has been a big part of Fritt's life for many years. He was able to be creative and express himself through skate boarding. He said it is like a sense of freedom. He loved being able to go to all these different countries trying out all the different skate parks.

"Skating is the perfect mixture of creative expression and exercise," Fritts said. "It allows me to let go."

But some compete in even more out of the ordinary sports, such as water skiing. Junior Ashley Shrock has been involved in water skiing since she was 5 years old. Shrock and her skiing team have traveled all over the Midwest, including Wisconsin and Illinois. Her favorite part was being on top of the pyramid.

"Me and the team have grown very close over the years," Shrock said. "We're like a big family."

Another unusual sport that another warrior competes in is horse rodeos. Senior Jenna Stoffel has been competing since she was eight years old.

Stoffel says she loves riding and the best part about it was interacting with the horses. Stoffel had a close bond with all of her horses, and she loved entering them in all different types of rodeos and shows.

"Interacting with the animals is an important part of riding," Stoffel said.

Bowling is another sport many students participate in. The bowling team outperformed several of the other Warren winter teams this year, with a record of (5-5).

With Mr. Larry Williams resurrecting the team, the Warren Central bowlers certainly had a season to remember.

"When I started at Warren last year, I realized they no longer participated in bowling, so I tried starting a team last year but started too late," Williams said. "This year I started early with approval from the administration, and got the team put together."

The team practiced every Monday and Wednesday at All Star Bowl, and they competed in matches once a week with various teams in their league.

So whether it is water skiing with a team, or competing with just a horse, Warriors have certainly shown that there are more sports than the traditional high school athletics.

Q: How long have you been in NAHS?
A: I've been in NAHS since sophomore year.

Q: What are your responsibilities in NAHS?
A: I make sure meetings run smoothly, help plan events like the Empty Bowls Project, and keep the club fun!

Q: What has art brought to your life?
A: Art has brought a sense of belonging in my life and has also helped me meet a lot of my closest friends.

Q: Are you studying art in the future?
A: I am hoping to go to Herron School of Art.

FILLING EMPTY BOWLS one at a time

Individuals always can come together and collectively make a difference in many people's lives," Mr. Derryl Craddock, sponsor for NAHS, said.

November 1 in the Commons, the National Art Honor Society (NAHS) held the Empty Bowls Campaign for the needy in our community.

Performances from the Warren Central jazz band and a chili dinner were prepared for the event creating an instant feeling of thrill and excitement.

NAHS members greeted visitors from the MIC schools and Herron School of Art and Design that participated in the event and directed them toward the Empty Bowls event that took place in the East Cafeteria.

Ceramic bowls sat on long tables at the entrance of the East Cafeteria. Guests were asked to donate $7 for handmade bowls and a chili dinner. The ceramic bowls represent the hard work crafted by the student potters from various schools.

The crafted artwork is a reminder of all the citizens who are in need of extra help in our community, because one out of eight Americans struggle with food insecurity daily.

The Empty Bowls Campaign started 10 years ago in 2002. For seven years Warren has participated in the program. This is the first time the Campaign was held at Warren.

Events have taken place across the United States and around the world. Millions of dollars have been raised to feed people in need.

The event gave away over 300 bowls made by students and raised over $3,000. The money raised went to Old Bethel Methodist Church Food Pantry, Gleaners Food Bank, and H.U.A.H.

The Empty Bowls event rotates to different schools each year, so it sadly will not be at Warren again for some time. It was something you did not want to miss out on.

"The fact that the bowls were crafted from the hands of another person to help other people is what I like about this campaign," Craddock said. "It was a fantastic turn out and we definitely exceeded our goals."

MR. ADLER AND seniors Braden Hammond and Nataleigh Mosely go over the lab materials for to prepare for a succesful lab. Both seniors later successfully completed the lab thanks to Adler's great instructions.

LEADING THE WAY... IN THE CLASSROOM

High school is tough. Students wake up every Monday through Friday, drag their feet to school, keep up with endless amounts of homework and extra curriculars, not to mention keeping up with all the current events and opportunities that come out of nowhere. But on top of all of that madness, having to schedule courses that are needed for graduation and college acceptance just make the road a little bit rockier.

Getting to class is already tough enough, but before getting put into that class, students have to choose the classes. Choosing the courses becomes a blueprint not just for the school year, but also the entire school career.

Thankfully, advanced placement classes were created to challenge students to enhance their critical thinking skills, and offer possible college credit based upon the results of the course's final exam. There is an abundance of rigorous AP classes from AP Spanish to AP physics available for students. Students find these classes challenging and some AP teachers can also agree.

Ms. Linda Monroe, AP chemistry teacher, agrees that her class is challenging.

"Chemistry is challenging because it is abstract and uses a lot of math skills," Monroe said. "It is also very detailed. My students learn to manage their time outside of class and to be successful. They must work ahead and not wait last minute to complete an assignment or prepare for a test."

Monroe isn't the only teacher in the science department who knows her class is challenging. AP Biology teacher Ms. Sherri Nelson agrees that her class pushes her students as well.

"[AP biology] is a college level course." Nelson said. "We cover a lot of curriculum [,but] with more depth. Even students who don't earn a three or higher on the AP test tend to have greater success in college because they have the experience of an AP course."

Although high school is challenging, some students enjoy taking harder classes. There are some students whose core classes are all Advanced Placement. While these students are racking up college credit, those students are also gaining somewhat of the "college work" experience.

(in other words) THE DENTAL CLINIC

SENIOR TAUTIANA BROWN-ROBINSON helps Jane Pauley cut the ribbon in front of the dental clinic. The dental clinic was available for families without insurance or a dental provider.

Jane Pauley lent her name supporting the first dental clinic in the Walker Career Center. Friday August 3rd, 2012, the ribbon cutting ceremony was held. Those participating were former graduate Jane Pauley, Walker Career Center students Ricky Lacy and Tautiana Brown-Robinson, and IU School of Dentistry students Elizabeth J. Rogers and Nathan B. Stanley.

Walker Career Center, IU School of Dentistry, Community Health Network, and the Jane Pauley Health Center were all involved in the making of the Dental Clinic. A grant was written which funded the construction that made the Dental Clinic a reality.

The dental services will be provided by the IU School of Dentistry students and will be assisted by Walker Career Center Dental Assisting students. The clinic opened in January 2013 for two days a week and served children and adults who were uninsured or do not have a dental provider. Referrals were made through the Jane Pauley Health Center.

> "This is one of the best things that has ever happened to Warren Central and Walker Career Center." - Rich Shepler

There were 35 students involved in this program and the different courses offered through this program which are Infection Control, Chair side, and Dental Materials. The clinic officially opened to help families in March. The students involved in these courses learned hands-on skills, how to mix materials, work on each other while taking impressions, and how to properly rinse the mouth.

The administration is very pleased with the dental clinic. "This is one of the best things that has ever happened to Warren Central and Walker Career Center," said Mr. Rich Shepler.

(IN OTHER WORDS)

What's changed since freshman year?

"I wanted to be a professional skateboarder my freshmen year because I thought it was my calling since it seemed so simple and easy. Now that I'm a senior, I want to be a professional chef. I decided this because I've always loved to cook and getting paid to do something you love sounds like a good idea to me."

Christopher Cook, Senior

"All my life I wanted to be a teacher because I thought I loved working with kids, but as I grew up and took the Bio-Med class, I figured out I actually loved the medical field, which is weird because I hated science for so long. Then I researched what a forensic scientist does and I loved the idea of being on the same lines as a crime scene investigator and figuring out crimes."

Christa Chambers, Senior

"When I was a freshman, I wanted to be an engineer because I was interested in working on cars. As a senior, I now want to be a doctor because I want to be able to help people who truly need it the most."

Thomas Naughgle, Senior

"As a freshman, I wanted to be a lawyer because I know it'd make good money, but now as a senior I would like to pursue a career in psychology. I believe this has changed because I'm more about other people now opposed to only thinking about myself."

Dharma Scott-Smittick, Senior

"I have wanted to be an interior designer since eighth grade, and it is still what I want to do because it's always been something I enjoyed, and I could imagine doing it the rest of my life."

Analisa Bixler, Senior

"My freshmen year I wanted to be a scientist so that I could discover the cure for cancer, but this year I realized I have a passion for teeth and want to help people have a beautiful smile."

Hannah Davis, Senior

"Becoming a psychologist and therapist is what I had always wanted to be as a freshmen. Now, I want to be a Criminal Justice lawyer because my brother is one and he has influenced me to take my career path in the same direction."

RIVALRY PAYBACK

Football team avenges earlier season Lucas Oil loss to rival Carmel

The football team is no stranger to adversity.

Over the past few months, they have endured coaching changes, injuries, and a series of unbelievably close losses. Coming into their do-or-die game against rival Carmel last Friday night, they had lost five games by a combined 20 points, including an overtime thriller at Lucas Oil Stadium to those same Greyhounds earlier in the season.

But in this game, the Warriors did what they have been doing all year long: fight. They scratched and clawed their way to a 31-24 triple overtime win against the defending State champions, to keep themselves alive.

However, it did not start well. Before the Warriors even realized where they were, it was 14-0 Carmel. Early in the second quarter, they got seven points back on a 30-yard touchdown run by senior Shaquille Breeding.

The game remained 14-7 until halfway through the fourth quarter, when Warren capitalized on good field position, drove down the field, and scored on a quarterback sneak by senior Anthony Cooper-Taylor. The game was sent to overtime. The team who has not been able to win a close game all year would have to do so to keep their season alive.

In the first overtime, Warren got the ball first and scored a touchdown on another rushing touchdown by Cooper-Taylor. The defense forced Carmel into a fourth-and-16, and put the team one play away from ending the game.

Greyhound quarterback John Lampe scrambled around for what seemed like forever on that play, and eventually found a receiver in the back of the endzone to tie the game.

Carmel then got the ball to start the second overtime and scored a field goal. All the momentum was with the blue and yellow and their fans, and when the Greyhound defense pushed the Warriors backwards on Warren's offensive possession, the fan base got even louder. This time, the Warriors were down to their final breath.

Junior Max Hernandez, who had made less than half of his field goals in the regular season, walked on the field and drilled a 30-yarder to re-tie the game. Momentum switched again. This time, it would not be given back.

On the first play of the third overtime, Cooper-Taylor connected with senior wide receiver Raymond Epps,on a 10-yard touchdown pass. Carmel went nowhere but backwards on the ensuing possession, and after Lampe's final attempt fell incomplete on fourth down, a sea of white stormed the field from the east sideline.

They had done what they had not been able to do all regular season: finish. They had avenged not only the loss they had taken from Carmel earlier this season, but the Sectional loss from last year as well. They also did something that has not been done in this program in 11 years: win at Carmel.

SEASON SPIKED

Young girls volleyball team struggles to find consistency throughout season

As the regular season came to an end, the girls volleyball team knew they needed to improve leading into the post season.

The girls started off the season with a record of 5-7, but in their conference they had a record of 2-1, which gave them something to look forward to as they headed to the hardest part of their schedule.

Center Grove would be a challenge for the team as they took in the Trojans at home. The girls were able to win the first set with a score of 25-20. However, Center Grove was able to win the next three sets and ultimately won the match with a score of 1-3.

The Warren Central Invite would be the girls' next challenge, as they took on Pike first. They were able to pullout the 2-0 win with scores 25-11, and 25-19. Senior Casey Clark led the way with six kills, and was followed by senior Dajaie Clay and junior Tabitha Bell who each had four kills.

With the win, the girls moved on to take on Lawrence North. The girls were not able to get a win in either of the games and took the 0-2 loss.

Carmel would be the team's final matchup of the day. The girls were yet again closed out with a 0-2 loss. Clark and Clay again led the team with two kills each.

"We can improve on working as less as individuals," Clark said. "We also need to be intense the whole game."

In their next four games, the girls would come up with two wins and two losses. The two wins were both 3-0 and came over Ben Davis and Park Tudor. Their losses came at Terre Haute South and Terre Haute North with scores of 0-3 and 2-3.

Even with some tough losses, the girls still had high hopes as Sectionals came up.

"I feel like if we play hard the whole game and play with a lot of intensity, we can go far," Clark said.

The girls finished out the last eight games of the season with a 4-4 record. One of their four losses came on "Pink the House Night" against Carmel. Their four wins came over Mt. Vernon, Greenfield Central, and twice over Park Tudor.

The team hoped that Sectionals would provide a ray of light after the tough end to the season. They took on Lawrence North in the first round but were unable to get the win in the 0-3 match. The girls finished the season with a record of 12-15.

HISTORIC SEASON

Girls make it to Semi-State for first time in school history

It was no secret that the girls soccer team was going to be good.

They were ranked coming into the season, and many expected the girls to improve their record from last year and advance further in the state tournament. But after senior goalkeeper Kelsie Williams went down, not once, but twice, with a knee injury, and after they went 2-4-1 in their final seven regular season games, many wrote them off. The young team responded by putting together the most historic run in program history in the postseason.

The team took care of business in Sectional play, defeating Howe and Beech Grove by a combined score of 13-1. At Regionals in Shelbyville, the ladies took that next step.

A year ago, they had gotten to the same point and were playing on that same field when it all ended with a loss to Perry Meridian. They ensured it did not happen again this season with a resounding victory in the first round of Regionals over Greenfield Central. Three days later, they followed that up with a 2-1 win over Center Grove to secure the program's first ever Regional championship.

It didn't stop in Shelbyville. The next weekend, they traveled even farther south to Evansville for Semi-State. A Lyon goal 30 seconds into the second half gave them a win over Bloomington South that put the team one win from the 2A State Championship.

Their opponent in the Semi-State final game was fifth-ranked Evansville Memorial. In the game, the team did what they had done all season: fight through adversity. They gave up a goal early in the first half, and then lost their back-up-turned-starting goalie, junior Addie Runkel, to a concussion. With 15 minutes left on the clock, the Warriors were down a goal and without their two varsity goalkeepers.

It looked all but over until junior Crystal Magadan scored with 14 minutes to go. Memorial came right back with a goal just minutes later. But again, the ladies showed resilience. They fought back to tie the game at two on a goal by senior Rebekah Pack. They went on to lose 2-3 on a controversial penalty kick with less than five minutes to go.

Despite the loss, Pack and her fellow seniors led their team to a place it has never been.

NEW MANAGEMENT

Boys cross country team adjusts to new coach and makes strides in the post season

Like many teams in their upcoming seasons, the boys cross country team had a coaching change to deal with.

Over the summer, Brandon Jones, a Warren Central graduate, took over as the head coach of the boys' team. Being an experienced Warrior runner, he fit in quite well.

"He's funny, energetic, and keeps us motivated," junior Matt Egan said. "He really sparked a fire in this team."

The team headed into their season with hopes of reaching the state meet, and bringing a new level of competition to the table.

Standards were set high, and the team expected to come out and compete well all season. Their first meet was on August 22nd at the Carmel Invitational for the boys. The girls started off their season at the Arabian Round-Up.

For the boys, under new management, they started off not too bad. In their first meet, the Carmel Invitational, junior Lee Justice lead the Warrior runners placing third. The closest Warrior to finish behind Justice was senior Antwan Martin who placed 23rd.

Overall, the boys did well. The Warriors ended up coming in fifth out of 12 teams, but this didn't set them back.

As for the girls, they put in work over the summer almost everyday, including attending a team camp.

"Not only did we get quality work outs at camp, but also team bonding," junior Sarah Hoppes said.

For the girls, they also entered their season expecting many victories. They ended up placing sixth out of 24 teams at the Arabian Round-Up.

At the next meet, the Hokum-Karem Invitational, the girls came up with a loss, coming in 11th out of 12 teams. The results were a little better for the boys who came in sixth out of 24 teams.

Even though the girls had a few minor setbacks in the season, overall they were prosperous. One of their highlight meets was the Maconaquah Invitational.

Sophomore Hope Jones lead the Warrior runners placing sixth of all the competitors. Junior Sarah Hoppes was the second Warren leader placing 16th out of 83 overall runners.

RAISING AWARENESS

Faculty and players raise money for homeless in first Tennis for Turkeys

Taking a break from their regular season, the boy's tennis team looked to fight the war against hunger as they held an event called "Tennis for Turkeys."

The event was held on September 5 and pitted players against faculty members. Admission to the event was $2 and all the proceeds went to a group who purchased, cooked and delivered Thanksgiving meals to families in the community that were in need. This was the first time the tennis team held the event, and altogether it raised $1,000.

Before the event was held, the faculty members were given cans that looked like tennis players to collect donations before the afternoon. Every staff member who collected $50 or more was allowed to throw a pie at any tennis player of their choice.

The teacher who got the most donations got to pick a player to pour Gatorade on. Ms. Beth Wolff won the right to drench someone, but she couldn't make up her mind, so she split the container between Elliot Dant and Derrek Burdick.

"It was exciting to see everybody come out and participate," Mr. John Barnes said. "I was impressed to see that Mr. Rich Shepler after all of these years still got game."

"My favorite part was definitely getting to be around a group of kids in a totally different setting than the classroom," Ms. Alison Baldwin said. It's important to me to support the endeavors of our students."

Even though the tennis team had never held an event before, they believed they did very well. Over 20 people participated in the event, and they raised a lot of money. Ms. Wolff was the big winner raising over $50.

"The event was a big success," senior Dant said. "It was awesome to know we raised $1,000 in all."

The slice serve is where the ball curves. When it hits the ground it skids and bounces to the side making it harder to hit.

The American twist serve, the most commonly used serve in tennis, is when the ball is tossed over the head then hit right in the serving box.

Cayla Clifford leads group of young golfers to brink of school history

After last season's success, the girls golf team came back ready to dominate this year.

The team was able to find success throughout the season. Coming in first place once, the girls were able to finish second place seven times, and third place four times, the girls had trouble finishing most of their matches.

The team was lead by their only senior Cayla Clifford.

Even with the tough close losses, the girls were able to form a close bond.

"We all improved our golf game, and we became really close," Clifford said. "We're all supportive of each other, and competitive on the course."

Looking to turn their whole season around, the team went on to the Marion County Tournament looking for their bond to carry them and to get their first overall win of the season.

When it was all over the girls finished third overall with a score of 402. They finished only behind Brebeuf and Lawrence Central. Clifford finished sixth overall in the tournament shooting a 90.

A week later the team competed in the Sectional match. They finished fourth out of seven teams. With the finish Clifford was the only individual to make it to Regionals and the team was only nine strokes away from the whole team making it to Regionals and being the first team in Warren Central history to do that.

"I am extremely proud of what I accomplished this season," Clifford said. "Making it to Regionals was the best experience I have ever had."

Cheer coach gives insight on cheerleaders through football and basketball seasons

Brittany Debesse, varsity head cheerleading coach and teacher at Warren Central, has proven herself worthy of her position. Debesse, with 14 years of experience, has been involved in the cheerleading environment since fourth grade.

"Cheerleading is loving. All the girls on the team like each other. The environment isn't so serious, but that doesn't mean our girls don't know when to work." said Coach Debesse.

This year, the cheerleading team overall had 85 girls try out which is the most girls that have ever tried out. Out of those 85, 14 girls made varsity and 12 made the junior varsity team.

"I think so many tried out this year because the program has gotten better every year so more girls are becoming interested in the cheerleading role in high school," said Coach Debesse.

Being a cheerleader isn't all about flipping and wearing a lot of make up. A lot of hard work goes into perfecting the moves such as liberty stances and lifts.

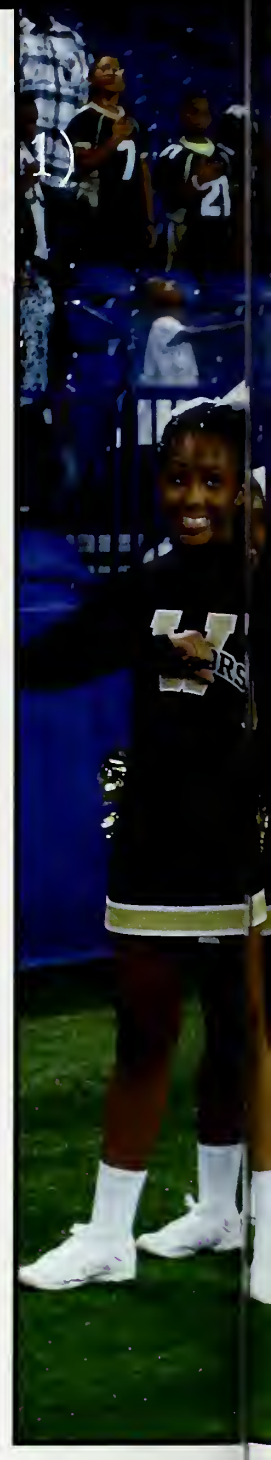
"We work really hard at our practices. We have to maintain support throughout the team which makes practice a fun place to be." said senior Ayrrika Spells.

Debesse has had the most experience out of the cheerleaders on the team, making her completely qualified to lead a cheerleading team that is responsible for hyping the crowd, which leads to the confidence of the team that's playing.

"The relationship between Coach Lux and I is a good one, which is why I think the girls work so hard.

They see their superiors having a good time, so they follow along," said Coach Debesse.

The role of a cheerleader, to a fan, is entertainment and someone pretty to look at during a game, but in reality, the heart and soul the girls put into their passionate sport.



"The relationship between Coach Lux and I is a good one, which is why I think the girls work so hard. They see their superiors having a good time, so they follow along.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

Senior captains lead young group of underclassmen to successful season

Senior leadership is key to a team's overall success during the regular season.

Even a talented young group needs its older members. These members provide the experience and leadership skills that helps the team progress over the year. This symbolizes this year's boys and girls swimming teams.

Most of the seniors on the squads have been swimming together since middle school. Their chemistry together helped shape the teams and have helped ease in the younger, new swimmers onto the team. This has helped make the members more than just teammates; they became family.

"The seniors did a great job of leading by example and being there for the younger swimmers on the team," head coach John Sincroct said. "Our captains are not only some of our top competitors but they also excel in the classroom."

On the girls' side, senior captains Molly Moore and Madeleine Stewart led a very young squad of girls to many well-placed results throughout the year. Their leadership helped most of the young girls such as freshmen Paige Finnigan and Dessa Rollins place high in almost every meet.

For the boys, seniors Conner Finnigan and Josh Garmon anchored a team full of many young talented boys to many wins during the regular season. Both Finnigan and Garmon had experience in big meets as they both competed in the State meet the last couple of years. This experience helped the team finish first in the majority of their meets.

The boys took to the pool in Sectionals to hitch their ride to State. The team as a whole had a big day the first day as they were able to advance 24 swimmers to the Sectional final.

Finningan once again was able to reach State in an individual meet by winning the 100-yard breaststroke. He broke the Sectional and pool record at Lawrence North with a time of 58.06 seconds.

No other swimmers made it to State in individual meets but both the 200-yard Medley relay and 200-yard freestyle relay teams were able to advance. These teams consisted of Finnigan, Garmon, and sophomores Andrew Aughe and Dillon Trumpey.

In State the team finished tied for 50 out of 56 teams. This capped off one of the most historically successful season in recent history for the boys.

In the breaststroke, the arms account for all of the forward movement. While one arm is in the air, the other is under resting for the next stroke.

The core of the body is most important to a swimmer for a butterfly stroke. It keeps the body in a wave-like position that pushes the body forward.

For the breastroke the legs are a vital component. They thrust the body forward and stronger legs means more of a thrust.

REPEATED HEARTBREAK

Boys basketball team struggles to close out games against top teams in the state

Coming into the season, the boys basketball had high expectations as one of the top 10 teams in the state.

The boys started off the season with a nail-biting 61-60 win over top-ranked Cathedral. Senior Devin Davis led the team to the win with 30 points. They followed up with three straight wins over Franklin Central, Fishers and Avon.

With the 4-0 start, the team traveled to hated rival Ben Davis. After a thrilling four quarters, the game went into overtime where Ben Davis was able to get the heartbreaking 50-51 loss. Overtime would be a reoccurring theme for the boys.

The team's next two games would also be overtime losses. The first coming against Chicago Orr with a score of 55-58. The next was a thrilling triple overtime game against Pike. Despite 25 points from Davis and 31 from junior Jaraan Lands, the team still took a tough 94-99 loss.

"To be a good team, you have to beat the good teams," head coach Greg Graham said.

Regrouping after all of those heartbreaking losses, the boys turned their attention to Lawrence North. Despite overcoming a large fourth quarter deficient, the team could not again get the win. They finally got back on the winning track with a blowout win over Terre Haute South.

Their next task would be the county tournament where in the first round they dominated Beech Grove. The next game would be a rematch against Ben Davis with the team avenging the earlier season loss with a 43-42 victory. However, in the semi-final game, they lost to Park Tudor.

The team closed out the season on another 2-1 run. They beat Lawrence Central 68-50, avenging last year's tough Sectional loss. Carmel would be their only loss as they ended the season with a close win over Bloomington South.

In Sectionals, they drew Lawrence Central for their first round opponent for the third year in a row. This game would be drastically different than the regular season matchup. The boys led throughout the game but in the end Lawrence Central was able to get the win on a last-second shot.

The tough loss ended the team's season. Throughout the season the team played hard and competed in every game but like in most games, they could just not close it out.

FIRST-YEAR JITTERS

Young girls basketball team fights throughout season despite controversy

Fighting through adversity, the girls basketball team fell into an unfortunate slump that they could not seem to break.

After starting the season 2-1, they received the bad news that one of the key players, senior Lena Berry, was named ineligible due to a transfer that was not properly recorded.

Having to forfeit the wins they had so far received, they lost a lot of momentum going forward with their season.

"I was really upset when I found out about the forfeits because no team wants that to happen to them," said senior Bri Jones. "However, I was not going to let that get me down. It only motivated me."

The girls moved on to play top-ranked Pike, and after cutting the lead to only four points, the girls unfortunately could not finish the come back and took a sharp loss by six points.

The girls took on the Brebeuf Braves in the first round of the Marion County tournament. Brebeuf was able to move past the girls in the tournament by a three- point margin.

Looking to bounce back from their tough loss to the Braves, they took on the two Lawrence teams, which were both eager for wins - which they got. Lawrence Central got the victory by over 20 while Lawrence North won by a margin of over 30.

For the girls next game they traveled to Mooresville. Ending with an unfortunate result again, the girls picked their heads up and looked on to their next opponent, Hamilton Southeastern.

Taking the toughest blow they had all season, the girls started to lose faith in their season. But they knew they were strong, and they continued to fight.

Throughout the month of January, the girls took on four more opponents, but still came up slightly short against each opponent.

When Sectionals came around, the girls took on the seventh-ranked Roncalli Rebels in the first round. The girls were not able to get the upset losing 40-66, and with the loss, ended their season.

the passing styles of a playmaker

One type of pass would be a chest pass. The arms are put to the chest and the ball is thrown to the other player.

A skip pass is performed by throwing the ball across court to a teammate. The ball is to be launched above the defense in order to prevent a turnover.

An overhead pass is performed when the ball is brought over the head and thrown to the target. These passes are primarily used in situations when the target is far away. An example would be a pass in.

2. JUNIOR TIA KING lays up the ball while avoiding her Tech opponent. King contributed for 9 points out the team's 55 points.

3. SENIOR BRIANNA JONES takes the ball to the basket in the game against Carmel. Jones finished the game with 10 out of the team's 47 points.

4. JUNIOR TIARRA RAMEY goes in for a lay-up in the intense game against Franklin Central. The girls unfortunately lost this game with a score of 34-60.

HISTORIC SEASON

Wrestling team caps off one of the most historic seasons with a State champion

The wrestling team had a largely successful regular season as the finished with a 21-0 record, but their biggest challenge would come at State.

The team was helped by large contributions from seniors like Shabaka Johns, Danny Herrick, and Georgia Blades. There were also many underclassmen that sparked the team such as freshman Matt McKinney, and juniors Max Hernandez and Deandre Wilson.

In Sectionals the boys dominated and were able to advance 11 wrestlers onto Regionals. They again performed well in Regionals where they sent eight individuals to the Semi-State meet. Out of those eight, six advanced onto State at Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The wrestlers who made it to State were Johns, Hernandez, Wilson, McKinney, and juniors Katrell Moss and Noah Perdue.

McKinney made history by just going to State. He is the first freshman to wrestle in the State meet as he competed in the 106-pound division.

Making it to State was a huge achievement for the wrestlers, but that was all due to their hours of training and hard work they put in. Head coach Danny Williams was just as excited as the wrestlers."

"It was an outstanding feeling having six wrestlers qualify for the State tournament," coach Danny Williams said. "This is only the third time in Warren history that this has been done."

At the State meet, the team received strong performances from each of the six individuals. Hernandez placed third in the 220-pound division, Johns placed fifth in the 145-pound division, and Moss placed eighth in the 182-pound division. McKinney and Perdue both unfortunately were not able to make it out of the first round but will look to be back better and even better next year.

Wilson was the star of the event for the team. He capped off an undefeated season with a State championship in the 120-pound division. This is the second time under head coach Danny Williams' tenure that he has had a State champion, the last coming in 2010.

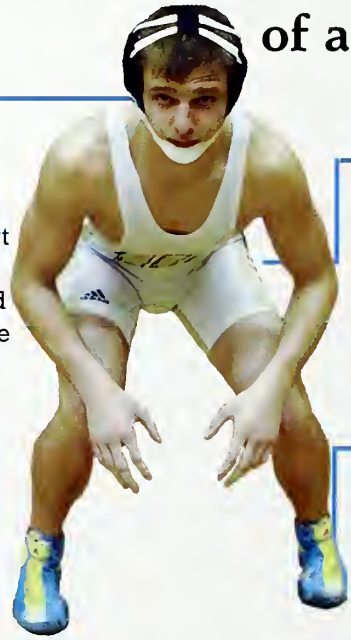
the Muscles of a wrestler !



The neck muscles are also an important part for wrestling. They are used to help escape pins and opponents.

The biceps are a very important muscle to a wrestler. They are used to effectively throw down and pin your opponents.

Thigh muscles are also an important muscle in the body. They are used to push or lift the opponent off of the ground.

	Allie Goelz	Megan Bone	Kendra Bender
1. If you could have any super power, what would it be and what would you do with it?	"I would want to be able to read minds of animals, and I would open my own veterinarian's office to use that ability."	"To read minds so I know what everyone thinks about me."	"To be invisible. I would be able to walk down the hallway faster and cut people in line."
2. What ice cream flavor would you be and why?	"I would be sherbert because it's sweet and sour just like me."	"Vanilla, because its the original flavor."	Strawberry, because I'm a simple person.
3. What is something most people don't know about you?	"Most people don't know that I'm a very insecure person."	"I have a great sense of humor and a great taste in music."	"I'm very artistic and great at drawing and painting."

MEET SHAWNEE WATSON

Q What exactly is epilepsy?

"Epilepsy is the misfiring of electronic signals in the brain." A

Q When did you first discover you have epilepsy?

"I discovered I had epilepsy the Saturday before Summer break ended. I had a seizure and had several doctors appointments after. They gave me a GED, a test that measures brain signals, and a few days later told me I have epilepsy." A

Q How has this affected your daily life?

"I have to keep a balanced diet and make sure I have enough sleep. Also, I used to rock climb a lot, and I can't do that now. My parents are very protective now so even anything that's slightly dangerous, I cannot do." A

Q How long have you been swimming?

"Since I was 6 years old." A

Q What kind of goals do you hope to achieve in swimming?

"I want to win sectionals as a freshman to advance to state and by my senior year I hope to be the first female from Warren to have an individual state championship for swimming." A

Q Have you already accomplished anything big?

"Yes. I have swam at State many times, and I have placed for the half mile swim. I also have advanced to Zone, a faster meet than State that draws swimmers from 15 states, where I placed 21st. " A

MEET ANGELIQUE JAMES

What has inspired your style?

"My motivation to become a fashion model."

Who is your idol, style wise?

"I like Rihanna, Lady Gaga, Katy Perry, and Kimbra. They have a unique taste in style, and I like that."

How do you express yourself through your style?

"I put weird, vintage, and crazy things together that spark my interest."

1 What song best describes your life?	"'The Climb' by Miley Cyrus"	"'We Are Young by fun.'"	"'Great Expectations' by Diggy Simmons"
2 If you could meet anyone, dead or alive, real or fictional, who would it be and why?	"John Cena. I love his way of always fighting for what he wants, and he never gives up."	"Kendrick Lamar, because I love his songs and he just seems really cool."	"Rajon Rondo, he's my favorite athlete."
3 What is something most people don't know about you?	"I love playing with a q-tip in my ear... it's the best feeling in the world."	"That I'm shy when I get around people I don't know."	"I like to make music."

MEET IVAN KIMBERLIN

Q What organization did you go to Jamaica through?

A "I went with Praying Pelican Missions."

Q What kind of volunteering projects did you do while there?

A "We volunteered the entire trip. We laid a foundation for a church, visited a nursing home, and went to some schools. Everyone there seemed enthralled to see us."

Q What are some cultural differences you learned between the US and Jamaica?

A "The stereotypes about Jamaica are true. Everyone says, 'Yah mon.' I've never seen so many people with dreadlocks in my entire life. The people are very poor. There is a lot of litter, but it is still a beautiful place."

JUNIORS

1. JUNIORS DOMINIQUE SHELBY and Logan Hunt play a variation of Simon Says at the Junior/Senior leadership retreat. The game taught integrity, encouraging students to take the initiative to leave the game, even if no one saw them mess up.

2. JUNIORS MAYA WASHINGTON, Imani Woodson and Mikala Washington sing a melody of songs at Warren's Got Talent. The girls won the crowd over with their beautiful harmonies.

3. JUNIOR COLLIN HENDRICKS warms up before an orchestra concert. Hendricks has been playing the cello for 6 years.

1. What cartoon character is most like you and what do you have in common?	"I'd say Scooby-Doo, because I like to avoid conflict and eat a lot."	"Ash Katchum. I love winning as much as he does, but I don't like going against my morals just to do it."	"Spongebob. We're both goofy and quirky, and everyone loves us."
2. Facebook, Twitter, or Instagram?	"Facebook, because it's the best way for me to keep up with bands and friends."	"Twitter! I tweet frequently! @bekhuh follow me!"	"Twitter, because everyone likes to listen to what I have to say."
3. What is something most people don't know about you?	"I play 7 and 8 string guitars."	"Most people don't know that I used to take gymnastics. I can bend all the way backwards!"	"I love to cook, and that's why I work in the threshold."

MEET FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT JEPPE ALBERTSEN

Q What is a typical day in Denmark like for you?

A "I would get up in the morning, walk to school, and be in school till about 2 p.m. On the weekends we would go out, since the legal drinking age is 16."

Q How are Denmark and the US different?

A "Denmark is way more laid back. We don't really have any worries, since we get free education and healthcare, and there are no guns. The US has a lot of cultures, and Denmark basically has one."

Q Are school priorites different in Denmark?

A "School is definitely different in the US. As I mentioned, education is free in Denmark, so everyone who wants it can get it. It is also more casual. We call teachers by first name, and we can use electronics. And instead of having classes with different people, we have all classes with the same people."

THROUGH THICK AND THIN...

Brianna Jones & Allyson Fields

Brianna Jones and Allyson Fields have been friends since they were in the seventh grade, and they don't plan on changing that. They met from playing basketball, and have been friends since. Throughout high school they played basketball together, and had an inseparable bond.

After high school, Allyson will be attending Indiana State University and Brianna plans to attend college also. "I will miss her more than anyone else, but I plan on staying in touch," Brianna said.

Allyson says their funniest moment was when she tripped Brianna in front of everyone, including her crush. Even though friends embarrass each other; they don't plan on stopping their friendship. "When I say she is my BFF, I mean forever," Brianna said. "She is stuck with me."

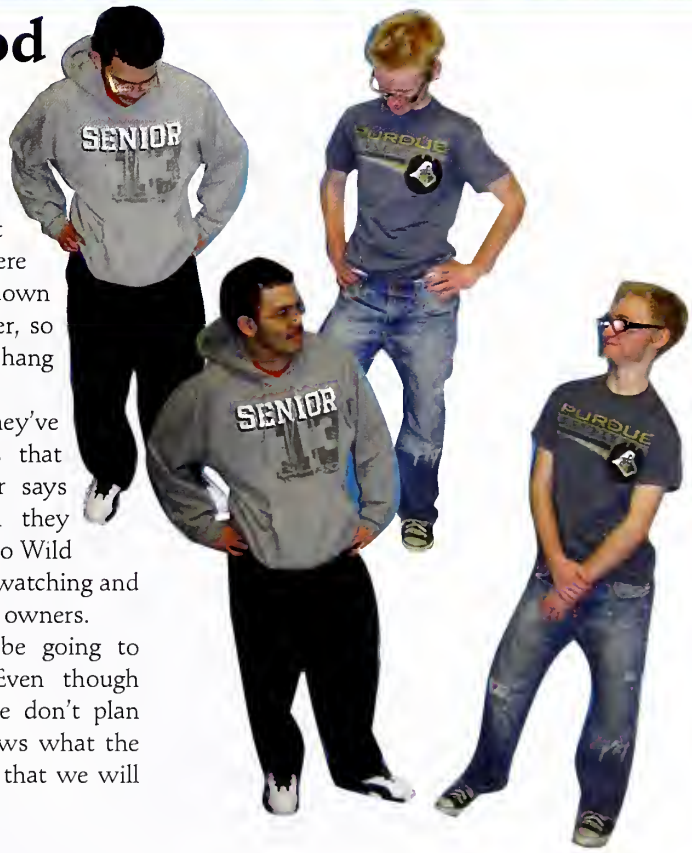
(in other words) ...BEST FRIENDS

Darian Phillips & Petar Hood



Petar and Darian have known each other since they were five years old, and have been best friends since they were eight. They both live down the street from each other, so they always could easily hang out.

Through the years, they've shared countless memories that they will never forget. Petar says their funniest memory was when they accidentally hit two cars in the Buffalo Wild Wings parking lot when no one was watching and just left without telling the other car owners.

After this year, they both will be going to Ball State to study broadcasting."Even though we're going to the same school, we don't plan on rooming together. So who knows what the future will hold, but we do know that we will always remain friends."

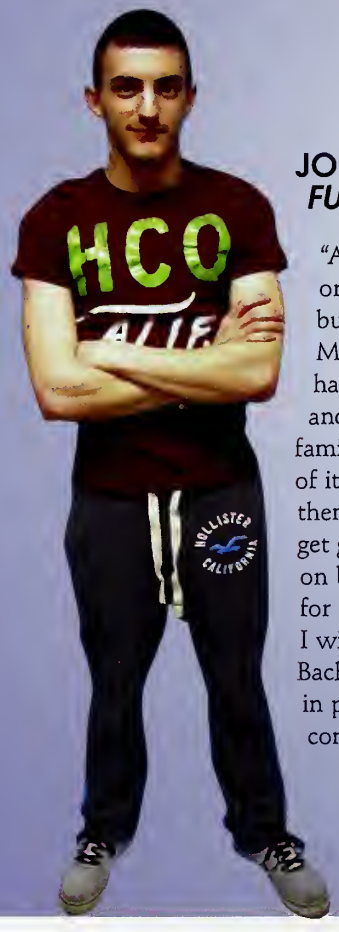
JUSTICE WALLACE
FUTURE COSMETOLOGIST

"With the training I have recieved in the Walker Career Center Academy of Cosmetology, I work at Bella's Spa. I'm unsure if I want to continue working there after high school, or find a new salon. Its a great place with great clientele. I can do almost anything that deals with hair, nails, and skin care. I am a multi-talented stylist."



JOHN YOUNG,
FUTURE MARINE

"Anyone can go to college or get a full time job, but it takes a lot to be a Marine. I have family that has been in the military, and since everyone in my family only sees the bad of it, I want to prove to them that someone can get good out of it. I plan on being in the Marines for 20 years, and after that I will have received my Bachelors, if not my PhD in psychology or human communications."

SHELBY CONLEY,
FUTURE SUNDEVIL

"I'm going to Arizona State University because it's my dream school, its so warm there, and they're ranked in the top five colleges that employer's look for. I'm majoring in kinesiology, and I'll be in a downtown campus, so I'll have many networking opportunities."

JESSICA GIBSON,
FUTURE MISSIONARY

"I'm going on the mission trip to not only get out and experience a different culture, but to also help others through hard labor and spreading the word of God to make a difference. I'm going to Mazatlan, Mexico for six months, and I plan on using it as a learning experience, and to get a better understanding of what I want to do with my life."

FACULTY

ENGLISH TEACHER MS. Brittney DeBesse participates in the First Annual Tennis For Turkeys Event with fellow colleague Drew Emery. The event raised money to help families in need and pitted teachers against student tennis players.

FRESHMAN ACADEMY SECRETARY Ms. Marcella Jackson lends a hand to new students on the first day of school. Administrators were available throughout the day to help guide students to their classes.

SOCIAL STUDIES TEACHER and Student Council Advisor Ms. Courtney Burchett informs parents and students about Student Council during co-curricular night. The co-curricular night offered insight to all the clubs and classes available at Warren.

ADVISORS

The amount of hard work that was put into the book was insurmountable and without a great staff, it would have been nearly impossible to complete. Cathy Wines was the Herff Jones representative. Mark Haab served as the yearbook advisor and Publication Director. Rich Shepler was the principal. Gabriella Graves served as yearbook editor-in-chief and Samantha Vawter and Kyra Tucker were the associate editors.

COVER

The simple cover was designed by the editors to showcase the theme (in other words). The cover was meant to symbolize everything that makes Warren Central the school it has become. The (in other words) theme was carried through on pages by using circles, which along with parenthesis was the visual theme to tie the book design together.

SELL

The yearbook sold for the same as the previous year which was an "early-bird" price of $50 and a regular price of $60. A CD with expanded coverage, spring sports, prom, graduation and senior week was included.

PLAN

At 144 all color pages and a yearbook size of 8, the Warren Wigwam continued "smaller is better" in response to a down economy. Although the book has gone to a smaller printed size and cut the number of pages the last two years, in 2013 it was actually larger as far as content. This was the first year in over 25 years that the Wigwam was Spring delivery. The staff created a CD that not only contained spring sports and other events like graduation and prom that could not be included in the printed version, but it included coverage of many other events that could not be included in a 144 page yearbook. Herff Jones printed 350 copies of the 76th volume of the Wigwam. That also was a reduction. The book was printed on 100 pound matt paper. All page layouts were created with Adobe InDesign CS5 and Photoshop 5 software and designed by the Wigwam Staff using Macintosh iMacs. Headline and caption fonts were in the Avalon family. Accent font was Dale. Body copy was set in the Schnittger family 10 point.

PHOTOS

Most photos were taken by staff photographers using a Nikon D100, Nikon D80, and Canon SX10. Prestige, the official school photographer, provided sports group pictures and some special event coverage. All photos and graphics not originated by the staff meet Fair Use guidelines.
